Dear Ms. Miller,

We are the third-party administrators on behalf of General Motors Corporation for matters involving allegations of product liability. I am the Claims Administrator assigned to this file.

In that regard, I am in receipt of your correspondence to General Motors concerning your insured. Your correspondence alleges that your insured sustained property damage as a result of a manufacturer's product defect. However, insufficient technical documentation was provided relative to any alleged defect. Due to this fact, the following information and documentation are respectfully requested:

1. Please provide a copy of your expert report and color copies of photos taken by your expert. Please do not send originals as they may not be returned.
2. A copy of the police and/or fire report.
3. A copy of the vehicle operator's statement of events. This should include events prior to and immediately following the incident.
4. Advise if the vehicle owner and/or operator noted anything wrong or unusual about the vehicle prior to the incident.
5. Provide copies of all available maintenance, warranty, or repair orders on the subject vehicle. If the vehicle owner performed repairs and maintenance, then a chronological summary of operations performed is needed.
6. Advise as to any after-market equipment that may have been installed on the subject vehicle. If applicable, provide copies of receipts and/or invoices for installation of said equipment.

7. Advise as to all modifications, alterations, or changes to the subject vehicle. If applicable, provide copies of relevant installation receipts.
8. Did the owner receive any Recall Notices for the subject vehicle? If so, please provide copies of the notices.
9. Advise if the subject vehicle was ever involved in any prior accidents. If applicable, identify the nature and extent of the damages and repairs completed.
10. Provide copies of your proof of payment (cancelled checks). If this was a total loss, please submit a salvage estimate and your total loss work sheet.
11. Advise of any injuries.

As soon as the requested information has been received, a technical evaluation of this matter will be completed. Upon the conclusion of our evaluation, I will contact you with our position.

Also, you have the obligation and responsibility to ensure that the subject vehicle and it's related components are maintained and preserved in their post-event condition for so long as you intend to pursue a claim and/or cause of action. We will be unable to determine if a physical inspection of the subject vehicle would be necessary until we have had the opportunity to thoroughly evaluate your supporting technical documentation.

Respectfully,

Lisa M. Smith

Dear Lisa:

The above vehicle was involved in a fire loss. Damage to the vehicle resulted in a loss the amount of $16,990. Enclosed find my supporting subrogation documents as well as the expert report, color copies of the photos and the estimated salvage quota.

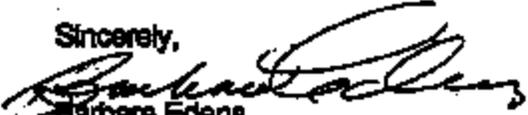

Our investigation indicates: Brief Facts: Mrs. Kinsella got in the car after work and tried to start it, heard a loud bang and then it started to smoke and flame and she turned off the ignition, grabbed the keys and got out.

Cause of Loss: The fire originated in a backfire in the upper intake manifold and ignited.

[REDACTED] The mileage at the time of loss is not known. The owners had no prior complaints with the vehicle and had no mechanical or electrical problems with it. No warranty work was performed, no recalls received and no service other than regular oil changes every 2000-3000 miles. The vehicle had not been involved in any accident during ownership. No maintenance receipts are available.

Please accept this letter as notice of a subrogation claim in the amount stated above. The vehicle is being held at an off site location, and is available for your inspection by appointment.

RE: Claim # 13-7487-154
Our File # S011129A

Dear Ms. Call,

At your request, on November 29, 2001 an inspection of a 1998 Buick Park Avenue took place. The purpose of the inspection was to investigate the cause and origin of a fire upon starting the engine. The inspection took place at Co-Part in Pekin, Illinois.

The vehicle identification number was 1G4CW52K6W4613096. It was equipped with a 3.8-liter V-6 engine and automatic transmission.

[Redacted] stated that the insured reported that upon cranking the engine he heard a poof sound in the engine compartment. Then, he saw smoke from the dash vents.

Fire patterns revealed that damage was primarily confined to the engine compartment and hood. No fire was apparent in the passenger compartment dash vent area as a result of a failure in the dash.

Examination of the fire patterns in the engine compartment revealed that the fire was most intense in the left rear corner of the engine in the fuel pressure regulator area and center area of the intake manifold.

In the area of the left rear corner is a fuel line and fuel rail that connects to the left bank fuel injectors. Burn patterns show that fuel burned down the left rear side or radiator side of the engine toward the starter motor.

Burn patterns are significant aft of center in the upper intake manifold forward of the throttle body. A significant portion of the plastic intake manifold in this area is ash. Toward the front of the engine the plastic material has melted, but hasn't turned to ash. This concludes that the fire was more intense near the throttle body unit.

Further examination concluded that there was no fuel leakage at the fuel pressure regulator

[REDACTED] fire inside the intake manifold communicated to the plastic material of the manifold. Then, the fire communicated to consumable materials in the area of the fuel rail including a non-metallic fuel line connected to the left bank fuel injector rail. This caused fuel to drip, spill and burn down the left rear side or radiator side of the engine. This fire communicated to consumable materials including wiring at the front of the vehicle.

As a result of these findings a backfire in the upper intake manifold caused an air fuel mixture and raw gasoline contained in the upper and lower manifolds to ignite. This fire communicated to the plastic manifold and to other consumable material in the engine compartment.

Please refer to the enclosed field photo report.

Please call if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Phil Arendt

Dear Ms. Edens:

Thank you for your correspondence dated March 26, 2002. Your letter alleges that your insured's vehicle sustained property damage as a result of a manufacturer's product defect. However we are still in need of some information that was not included in your last packet. Please provide me with:

- A copy of the police and fire reports.
- A copy of the vehicle operator's statement of events, which should include events prior to and immediately following the subject incident.
- Advise as to any after-market equipment, modifications, alterations or changes to the subject vehicle. If applicable, provide copies of relevant installation receipts.

As soon as information is received we can further evaluate your claim. For so long as you intend to pursue a claim and/or cause of action you have the obligation and responsibility to ensure that the subject vehicle and it's related components are maintained and preserved in their immediate post-incident condition. We will be unable to determine if a physical inspection of the subject vehicle would be necessary until we have received and had the opportunity to thoroughly evaluate your supporting technical documentation. If you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact me.

Amount of Loss: $18,990
Vehicle: 1998 Buick Park Ave

Loss Location: Kickapoo, IL
Your File: 43187

Dear Lisa:

Enclosed find the Fire Department report. I don't believe a police report was filed.

We do not release statements however the insured's facts of loss included events prior to and following the incident.

Short scenario leading up to the fire: Mrs. [REDACTED] got in the car after work and tried to start it, heard a loud bang and then it started to smoke and flame and she turned off the ignition, grabbed the keys and got out.

The insured advised there is no aftermarket equipment on the vehicle that they are aware of and that all wiring is factory wiring. No modifications or changes were made to the vehicle. When asked about service the insured responded the only service were routine oil changes every 2000-3000 miles. Receipts for the oil changes were not available. When asked if there had been any problems with the vehicle prior to the fire, the insured responded that they never had a problem with it and it was a good running car. It was purchased used by the insured December 2000 with about 53,000 miles.

Sincerely,

Barbara Edens

Dear Ms. Edens:

Thank you for your correspondence dated April 16, 2002. As you are aware, we have requested a copy of the vehicle operator's statement of events. While you have responded that you refuse to release this information, you have indicated that "the insured's facts of loss included events prior to and following the incident."

Thorough review of your submitted documentation reveals that we have not received any document identified as the "Insured's Facts of Loss." If this is an oversight, please forward this information as soon as possible. Otherwise, we again respectfully request that you forward the vehicle operator's statement as requested. This does not need to be in the form of a recorded statement or transcript thereof. A statement that is written and signed by the vehicle operator covering the requested information would be satisfactory.

As soon as information is received we can further evaluate your claim. For so long as you intend to pursue a claim and/or cause of action you have the obligation and responsibility to ensure that the subject vehicle and it's related components are maintained and preserved in their immediate post-incident condition. We will be unable to determine if a physical inspection of the subject vehicle would be necessary until we have received and had the opportunity to thoroughly evaluate your supporting technical documentation.
